Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology (OIST)

OIST is an interdisciplinary graduate school and research institute located in Onna village. Established in 2011, OIST fosters innovation through cutting-edge research across fields like neuroscience, physics, biology, and environmental science, focusing on international approaches.

Cape Manzamo

Cape Manzamo is a stunning natural cliff formation located in Onna-son, renowned for its elephant trunk-like shape. It offers breathtaking views, especially during sunset, making it a popular spot for sightseeing and photography. Cape Manzamo is a symbol of Okinawa's unique coastal landscapes and cultural charm.
